

Name: Chetan Chitre

About:

Chetan is an Assistant Professor at IIM Amritsar. He has a PhD in Economics from IIM Bangalore. Prior to that Chetan has spent about a decade in the financial sector working in the areas of financial appraisal of industrial projects and strategic consultancy in the MSME sector. He has also taught courses in Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Indian Economy, and Development Economics at various institutions.

His primary area of interest is the use of ICT for development. His PhD research looked at the impact of technology on learning outcomes in rural government schools. His research interest includes various aspects of development such as education, agriculture, and livelihoods. In his research, he explores the interaction between technology and society.

Research Interests:

Development Economics, Education, Agriculture, Use of ICT for Development.

Teaching:

Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Econometrics.

Publications:

Naik, G., Chitre, C., Bhalla, M., & Rajan, J. (2020). Impact of use of technology on student learning outcomes: Evidence from a large-scale experiment in India. World Development, 127, 104736.

De, R., Pal, A., Sethi, R., Reddy, S. K., & Chitre, C. (2018). ICT4D research: A call for a strong critical approach. Information Technology for Development, 24(1), 63-94.

Conferences:

- IIMB Management Review Doctoral Conference, Bengaluru, January 2018
- 3rd Annual Conference of International Association of Applied Econometrics, Milan, Italy, June 2016
- 6th International Conference on Economic Development, GRETHA, Bordeaux, France, June 2016
- 11th Annual Conference on Economic Growth and Development, Indian Statistical Institute, New Delhi, December 2015